

LIVESTREAMING AND PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

LIVESTREAMING OF EDUCATIONAL MATERIAL / ACTIVITY: The EASL Congress 2027, taking place in London, UK, from 16–19 June 2027.

FOR: The European Association for the Study of the Liver (hereinafter referred to as “EASL”)

This Livestreaming and Publishing Agreement (“Agreement”) forms part of the terms and conditions associated with your invitation to participate as faculty at the EASL Congress 2027. By accepting your faculty invitation, you also acknowledge and agree to the terms of this Agreement in relation to your presentation and/or other contribution (“Educational Material”) to the EASL Congress 2027.

EASL will livestream and may permit third parties acting on its behalf to record the Educational Material. The livestreaming will generally only last for the duration of the presentation and potential panel discussion included in the session, unless you have also agreed to be interviewed as part of the process, in which case the interviews will form part of the livestreaming and recordings. EASL may also use the recordings made, or any part of them, for the Purpose as defined below. Pre-recorded presentations played during a live session will be considered equivalent to a live presentation for the purposes of this Agreement.

In this Agreement, “Purpose” means for any purpose, including but not limited to educational use and marketing, but shall exclude the sale, broadcast or other communication of the presentation by EASL to third parties in return for a fee or subscription paid directly to EASL and solely in respect of the Educational Material.

1. I, the Contributor, agree to submit Educational Material to be publicly published, reproduced, transmitted and distributed by EASL and/or its Designee. This Educational Material may include charts, slides, drawings, photographs, texts, illustrations, summaries, outlines, videos of myself, video files, voiceovers and other materials (all of which shall be referred to as the “Educational Material”).

2. I grant EASL and third parties authorised by EASL the right to:

- a. take photographs or make recordings of myself;
- b. use those photographs or recordings, including my image, likeness and voice;
- c. livestream, publish, broadcast, show, distribute or otherwise communicate those photographs and recordings; and
- d. make multiple copies of, adapt, extract or edit the photographs, recordings and publications made under Clauses 2.a to 2.c;

in each of the cases above, for the Purpose, making use of different forms of technology without any restrictions and without the need for my further consent, including creating a podcast or webcast for distribution on any web platform, in any media and on-site computer displays.

3. I represent and warrant that the Educational Material is original, that I have the right to perform and publish the Educational Material on any electronic media and the rights to permit its use, reproduction, modification, transmission and display by EASL or its Designee, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

4. EASL acknowledges that I will retain the copyright ownership in copyright works of which I am an author and which are presented by myself as part of the presentation and/or otherwise included by myself in the Educational Material.

However, I hereby grant EASL and third parties authorised by EASL a non-exclusive, worldwide, perpetual licence with regard to the Educational Material to publish electronically, copy, issue copies to the public, perform, show or play it in public, communicate it to the public and adapt it, or do any of the above in relation to an adaptation, but only as comprised in or as part of the Production and for the Purpose.

The right to publish electronically, as granted by this Agreement, means and includes, notably, the right to record and reproduce the Educational Material on any electronic medium; to display or broadcast it in an electronic format; and to adapt the Educational Material in order to fit users' equipment and meet any other technical requirements.

I also warrant that the Educational Material does not include copyright works of any third parties (including but not limited to my employer or other colleagues) unless I have obtained the necessary rights or permissions for their use, and I represent that I have the authority to grant the licence set out in this Clause 4.

5. EASL will use its reasonable endeavours to ensure that I am named as the presenter of the Educational Material and may choose any form of credit to achieve this objective.

6. I acknowledge and agree that EASL has no obligation to publish, or to continue to display, the Educational Material or any portion thereof.

7. I, being an author of the Educational Material, hereby waive all moral rights, to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the electronic publication of the Educational Material.

8. EASL will terminate the rights granted under this Agreement within 30 days of a written request. In the event that I become aware of any content-related problems (including copyright clearance issues, mistakes in the accuracy of information, accidental disclosure of protected information, etc.), I shall immediately notify EASL.

EASL will take down the identified material upon proper notification and, more specifically:

a. the notice must include the identification of the allegedly infringing or problematic material, together with information reasonably sufficient to permit EASL to locate such material; and

b. the notice must be immediately transmitted in writing by email to faculty@easloffice.eu or by post to EASL, the Home of Hepatology, 7 rue Daubin, 1203 Geneva, Switzerland.

9. I consent to my personal data being processed for the purposes of the Production and subsequent publishing. EASL commits to processing my personal data in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

10. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties in relation to its subject matter. Any variations to this Agreement must be in writing and agreed by both parties.

This Agreement shall be governed by Swiss law and, where applicable, the laws of the Canton of Geneva. Any dispute, claim or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the competent courts of the Canton of Geneva, Switzerland.
